Connector for twisted pair, Shielded, Category 5e, 8P8C

Registered Jack (RJ) Plugs are designed as standardized interface for termination of solid and stranded (patch cord) cables in the production of patch cords, for connecting cameras and some other networking equipment.

Plugs are divided into three main types: for terminating stranded wire cables (patch cords), for solid wire (permament link) cables and universal type, suitable for both types of conductors. Using the wrong type of plug does not guarantee a quality crimp due to incorrect insertion of wires in the leads and may lead to loss of contact.

To increase the maximum number of reconnections, general life and the protection of copper contacts connectors from oxidation, they are additionally coated with gold plating.

By design, there are plugs with or without insets. The inset is usually more convenient for wires termination, although many installers prefer a simple model with the guide grooves, without inserts.

It is also recommended to use the boots to extend terminal life, enhance the user experience and give a finished look like patch cable. NIKOMAX Plugs are supplied in packs of 100 pieces.
